David J. Rothman

David J. Rothman's second book of poems, The Elephant's Chiropractor, was a finalist for the Colorado Book Award, and his poems and essays on many subjects appear in Appalachia, The Atlantic Monthly, The Gettysburg Review, The Hudson Review, Light, The Kenyon Review, Poetry, and scores of other journals. He also publishes widely in the mountain sports world. He was co-founder and first executive director of the Crested Butte Music Festival, the founding publisher and editor of Conundrum Press, and served for six years as the headmaster of a private, independent boarding and day school, Crested Butte Academy. He has taught widely in secondary, higher and continuing education and sits on a number of nonprofit boards. He currently teaches part-time at Lighthouse Writers Workshop in Denver and at the University of Colorado in Boulder, and serves as president of the Robinson Jeffers Association.

David Mason

David Mason's books of poems include The Buried Houses (winner of the Nicholas Roerich Poetry Prize), The Country I Remember (winner of the Alice Fay Di Castagnola Award), and Arrivals. His verse novel, Ludlow, was published in 2007, and named best poetry book of the year by the Contemporary Poetry Review and the National Cowboy and Western Heritage Museum. Author of a collection of essays, The Poetry of Life and the Life of Poetry, Mason has also co-edited several textbooks and anthologies, including Western Wind: An Introduction to Poetry, Rebel Angels: 25 Poets of the New Formalism, Twentieth Century American Poetry, and Twentieth Century American Poetics: Poets on the Art of Poetry. His poetry, prose and translations have appeared in such periodicals as Harper's, The Nation, The New Republic, The New York Times, The Times Literary Supplement, Poetry, Agenda, Modern Poetry in Translation, The New Criterion, The Yale Review, The Hudson Review, The American Scholar, The Irish Times, and The Southern Review. A former Fulbright Fellow to Greece, he lives in the mountains outside Colorado Springs with his wife, Anne Lennox.
